BEYOND CHICKEN® TENDERS WIN PRESTIGIOUS NATIONAL RESTAURANT ASSOCIATION AWARD, IN ADVANCE OF ITS NATIONAL FOODSERVICE LAUNCH LATER THIS YEAR

The plant-based chicken tenders were named a 2021 FABI Award Winner for Best New Product Innovation

EL SEGUNDO, Calif., May 13, 2021 -- Beyond Meat, Inc. (NASDAQ: BYND), a leader in plant-based meat, has been awarded the prestigious 2021 FABI Award from the National Restaurant Association Show for its latest foodservice product innovation, Beyond Chicken® Tenders. Crafted to look, cook and taste like traditional breaded chicken tenders, Beyond Chicken Tenders are breaded to perfection for a crispy outside and irresistibly juicy, tender bite. In consumer tests, Beyond Chicken Tenders scored at parity for taste-preference with animal-based chicken tenders, making them the perfect on-menu choice for appetizers, entrees or as an ingredient in salads, sandwiches and tacos.

As consumer demand for chicken from quick-service restaurants¹ and demand for plant-based meat continues to rise², Beyond Meat has worked to perfect its recipe for a best-in-class plant-based chicken that will exceed restaurateur and consumer expectations alike. Beyond Chicken Tenders come ready to cook and in addition to its craveable taste, deliver strong nutritional benefits with 14 grams of protein and 40% less saturated fat than the leading foodservice chicken tender. Like all Beyond Meat products, Beyond Chicken Tenders are made from simple, plant-based ingredients without GMOs. Beyond Meat launched its first chicken product in 2010 and since then, over a decade of innovation and research has gone into delivering the crispy, juicy and flavorful chicken tender experience consumers love.

“Beyond Meat has a long heritage with our plant-based chicken line and we’re thrilled to see our most recent innovation work result in Beyond Chicken Tenders being recognized as a category-leading product by the National Restaurant Association. With the introduction of Beyond Chicken Tenders in foodservice, we’re helping to increase accessibility to absolutely delicious, plant-based meat and bring increased choice to menus nationwide,” said Tim Smith, VP of Foodservice Sales, North America.

Beyond Meat is the #1 selling plant-based meat brand across foodservice³ and its products are sold at approximately 39,000 foodservice locations throughout the United States and 23,000 foodservice locations internationally. Beyond Chicken Tenders mark Beyond Meat’s 5th straight FABI win and are a result of Beyond Meat’s commitment to rapid and relentless innovation.
